

So there I stood looking up at the ladder thinking I could die.

As the time ticked rapidly it was my turn, climbing up I was going so slow.

Suddenly I zoomed to the middle I felt proud . I was struggling and struggling to get up to five, then I got up. Then I was concerned about my buddy Theo. I tried to help Theo but I could not reach his hand so I went on.

Then I said to my self are the ladders different sizes? One is big, one is small and some in the middle size. Then I did it and cheered the rest on.
