

Activity

This week in Java class, we stepped into our story a little bit more by reading an interesting news article about some sad animals at Horton-On-Sea aquarium. We imagined together that the article was real and as a class, we 'stepped into the aquarium' to see what we could see. Some children saw fighting sharks, fish with poorly fins and dolphins with tiny tanks. We came up with some amazing ways that we could help the poorly animals by becoming Animal Welfare Specialists! We had lots of clever ideas, including buying lots of food for the animals to eat, and preparing special medicine that would make the animals better. We are looking forward to exploring our Under the Sea topic further next week and we can't wait to go to the Sea Life Centre on Thursday!

We had a great time at St.Andrew's Hall on Thursday, where we sang beautifully in front of lots of people! We were on our best behaviour and we enjoyed watching children from other schools singing their lovely songs. Thank you to all the parents/carers that came to watch us sing - we hope you enjoyed our performance!

We have been excited about raising money for Comic Relief on Friday and we have been talking about all the different ways we would make our faces funny for money! We watched a video about Ngosa, a little girl living in Africa, and we spoke about how lucky we are. We have also been learning a Red Nose Day song ready for our assembly on Friday!

Helping at home

- You could explain to your family and friends about what you saw/heard/felt when you 'stepped into the aquarium' and talk about the ways you would help these animals.
- You could retell the story of 'Zoo' to your family and friends and describe the illustrations we looked at.
- Have a look at <https://www.visitsealife.com/great-yarmouth/play-fun-and-games/> where you can design your own Sea Life aquarium!
