

Week Beginning 23/1/17

Highlights of the week in Shackleton Class:

This week we have started a new topic based around the theme of jobs.

We have enjoyed discussing the sort of jobs we would like to do when we are older and have started to think about the qualifications and skills we might need to do them.

We have also been learning about budgeting with some work on estimating the prices of the food and drink we bought for our Family Breakfast. We also had to work out whether we'd have enough cups/plates and chairs for all our visitors!

We would like to thank everyone that came to our first Shackleton family breakfast on Thursday. We really enjoyed sharing some of our work and favourite games with you.

Despite a toaster malfunction we were very resilient and with everyone's help did a great job of hosting the event! We hope you enjoyed it as much as we did. Photos will be on the Shackleton section of the website soon.

Talk about/Maths Homework

Next week we shall be continuing our focus on jobs and their link with maths.

This week can you write or draw pictures to show how many times you use your maths skills during a typical day. Examples may include: Checking times for the cinema, counting out change for the bus, spending pocket money, measuring out ingredients for cooking, checking the sell by date on food etc.

You could also take a look at some receipts to work out how much your favourite food and drink costs.
